“ When I was 17 years old, my father married Elaine. At the time I was living with my mother but a year later, Elaine and my father Joe, purchased a home and my brothers and I moved in with them. Taking on 3 teenage children was not an easy task but she worked hard at it and we had a good relationship. She loved my father, who passed away many decades ago, very much and that meant a lot to me. Since I live in California and most of my Cleveland family has passed on, I lost touch, and was surprised to learn, only months after her passing, that she was gone. She was a good person (otherwise my father never would have married her). She was interested in the arts, loved to attend Cleveland Orchestra concerts, and was an avid weaver. She is now buried along side my father and I intend to rejoin my Cleveland family when I pass on.
