

Yisroel Stern

December 10, 1951 - July 7, 2025

Yisroel Stern, aged 73, passed away on July 7, 2025. Yisroel was born in Flushing, New York on December 10, 1951 to Gerald “Jerry” and Sonya “Sonny” (Sobel) Stern. Yisroel had a sister Marsha and two brothers - Phil and Charles. The family later moved to New Rochelle, NY where Yisroel was raised and graduated from High School. At University, Yisroel studied music and the liberal arts. Yisroel was an excellent Trombone player. He later made a major career transition to computer programming, where Yisroel developed a computer language called SQR, which is still in use today.

While on a visit to Cleveland, he met the love of his life Feige. The couple married in 1976 and had four children: Estee (Daniel) Sachs; Sholom (Susie) Stern; Sarah (Yanki) Greenspan; and Dovid (Anna) Stern. He later became the proud grandfather to Gavriel, Batsheva, Yonah, Akiva, Sholom, Emunah, Elisha, Benyamin, Ezra, Reuven, Pinchas, Tsofia, Moshe, and Rochel.

Yisroel was an avid music lover, an outdoor enthusiast, and a student and practitioner of Jewish spirituality. He was a Chabad Chassid and was a founding member of Chabad of Cleveland.
